Set up the Jewel Loom using the assembly instructions. Using the wildfire straight from the reel thread 8 warp threads (the long ones going along the whole loom). Cut a new length of thread approximately 2m long, thread the needle and weave just the thread back and forth before picking up beads (see image below). Pick up the first row of beads on the needle, following the colours on the diagram, take the beads under the warps and hold the beads in place, with a bead sitting in between two warp threads. Pull the thread through, keeping the beads in place and pass the thread back through all of the beads, this time keeping the needle and thread above the warp threads. This will hold the row of beads securely in place. Following the pattern, adding a row of beads at a time in the same way.

Using the same design - why not use your own colour ways to personalise the bracelet.

Make the bracelet your desired length and finish off with your choice of fastening. I have chosen to use small ribbon ends to cover the last two rows of beads and attached a trigger clasp to fasten.
